SILVER STATE INC. ANNOUNCES
AGORA, the ALÁXI FALL 2007 COLLECTION
Homage to the Arts & Crafts design period

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH (September 2007) — Silver State Inc. announces Agora, their newest Aláxi collection, Agora, (Á gorá), a collection which pays homage to the Arts & Craft design period, according to Manoli Sargetakis, a principal of Silver State Inc.

“In ancient Greece, the Agora meant the marketplace where people came together. Much like today’s farmers markets, at the Agora, you had a rich mingling of life’s bounty. Our Agora collection does just that. You have a truly elegant mixture of sophisticated color, lyrical patterns and artistic proportions. We bring together a mingling of the best elements of design to produce an Agora of beauty in any setting,” said Sargetakis.

“With Stripes Gone Wild, we gave into whimsy. A freshness of color adds boldness to an otherwise traditional stripe motif. This is complimented by a selection of patterns and a solid that work well with each other. We are especially proud of the pattern Panache, a traditional crewelwork pattern, popular in the Arts & Crafts period, which was designed exclusively for Aláxi using a brand new weaving technique with 12 different colors intricately woven in the fabric,” Sargetakis added.

There will be a total of eight new patterns and 40 sku's in the Agora collection.

The Aláxi collections represent many things to Silver State Inc., first and foremost the Greek heritage of the principals of Silver State Inc. In choosing the name for their premiere collection, the Sargetakis family wanted it to represent both luxury today, and what it meant in previous eras. In Modern Greek, Aláxi means change, a word that perfectly defines the vibrant approach of this dynamic selection of decorative fabrics. Aláxi collections balance classical luxury and style with materials that express a sensible approach for living, indoors or out. As always, at Silver State Inc., patterns are offered in clear, rich color combinations that allow for easy coordination.

Silver State Inc. offers a diversified and innovative selection of designer fabrics.

The SilverState fabrics line offers a stunning, yet practical selection of fabric and vinyl that can be used in multiple applications ranging from hospitality to residential.
